

GREGORY HIKING TRAIL

Boothbay, Maine

Trail Guide

The Boothbay region is known for its spectacular natural beauty, rocky shores, coastal islands, and river corridors. Since 1980, the Boothbay Region Land Trust has preserved the beauty of the Boothbay region by conserving land for the benefit and enjoyment of the residents and visitors

Our Mission

To conserve for the public benefit the natural habitat, scenic beauty and working land of the Boothbay region.

BRLT relies on charitable contributions. These donations help support land conservation, stewardship of the preserves, and educational programming. Please consider a contribution.
Thank you for your support.

About Gregory Hiking Trail

This trail loops around a heavily wooded property with extensive frontage on the Back River, an eastern branch of the Sheepscot River. There are extensive views to the north to the bridge which connects the Boothbay mainland to Barter Island, and across the river to undisturbed wooded shoreline. Hikers can enjoy walking around a small pond bordered by wildflowers and edged with cattails. Bullfrogs and dragonflies revel in this natural habitat, as well as deer, small mammals, and a variety of birds. The trail meanders through widely varied woods, including evergreens, oak, maple, aspen and birch.

Use of the trail was granted to BRLT by Dorothy Gregory and is maintained by the land trust. Because it traverses private property, visitors are asked to respect the generosity of the owner as well as its valuable flora and fauna.
